HARPER

An Imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers

Big Pig looks up.
He looks down.
He looks all around.

Big Pig can't find his jump rope anywhere.

“Don’t be sad,” says
Nat the Cat.
“Let’s play in the woods.”

“Look,” says Big Pig.
“I see some rope!”

“That can be your new jump rope,” says Nat.

“I am not a piece of rope. I am S-S-Sally S-S-Snake!”

“SNAKE!” yells Big Pig.

“I am a friendly s-s-s-snake,” says Sally.

“I’ll be your jump rope.”

“Now I am not sad,”
says Big Pig.
“It’s fun to jump rope with Sally Snake.”

PARENTS’ CORNER

Rereading the Book Together

Have your child play the part of Sally Snake, drawing out the words that begin with s, first in a scary way, then in a friendly way!

Check for Understanding

Why didn’t Big Pig realize that the “jump rope” he saw was a snake? Talk with your child about how snakes can sometimes blend in with their surroundings.

Fun with Words

What if Sally Snake had not been a friendly snake? What might have happened to Big Pig when he tried to use her as a jump rope? Have your child draw and label his or her response.

More Learning

Some snakes are dangerous, while others are harmless. Go to the library with your child and look for books on all kinds of snakes.
