Lesson Overview

Welcome to the Hooked on Phonics® Learn to Read Pre-K Level 2 Workbook, your guide through all the lessons in this level. Follow the easy step-by-step instructions to get your child started learning letter names and letter sounds. Every lesson follows the same approach: Learn, Practice, Play.

Learn

Your child learns the letter name, shape, and sound in each two-page workbook activity. Each unit starts with a phonemic awareness activity.

Practice

Your child then practices these new skills with the workbook review pages, flash cards, and online games.

Play

Each unit ends with a storybook that was specially written to support what your child has learned. We also include a book by the celebrated and award-winning children's book author and illustrator, David McPhail. Then go to the DVD for fun and entertaining letter songs and videos.

Celebrate

Celebrate each time your child completes a lesson with a sticker in the workbook. This also provides a helpful marker to remember where to begin next time.

Tips for Success

- Set a good pace. Work at a pace that's right for your child, whether it's every day or twice a week.
- Don't overdo it. Fit the lessons into your child's attention span, around 15 to 20 minutes.
- Repetition and review are important. Don't hesitate to review previous lessons before moving on.
- Kids learn through their senses. This program provides multiple ways of learning the alphabet that will help your child fully explore letter shapes and sounds.
- Talk about the storybooks. Engaging your child in a conversation about what was read helps stimulate thinking and comprehension.
- Read to your child every day. The more you share the love of reading with your child, the more your child will want to read.

What is phonemic awareness?

Phonemic awareness is the ability to notice—and work with—the individual sounds in words. When your child understands that cat and bat rhyme, or that cow and kite share the same beginning sound, your child is gaining phonemic awareness. Each unit starts with a phonemic awareness activity.

Letter Names and Letter Sounds

Learn to Read Pre-K teaches your child about letter names as well as letter sounds. It's important for your child to learn the difference, so it will be important for you to know which is which. Here's what you'll see in this workbook:

Letter name = italic: A, B, C or a, b, c

Letter sound = bold: a, b, c

Example: A is the first letter in apple, which starts with the a sound.

Sing the Alphabet

Go to DVD

Most children don't associate the words in "The Alphabet Song" with letters. Point to each letter as you sing. Slow down at L-M-N-O-P to clearly say the five letters.

Go to the DVD Extras menu and select Alphabet Song. Have fun singing along!

Follow That Ball

This story is told in rhyme. Here are some ideas for using this storybook to continue exploring rhyme with your child.

- When reading the book for the first time, pause before each rhyming word and emphasize it.
- As you reread the book, ask your child to raise her hand every time she hears a rhyme.
- When you get to a rhyming word, don't say it. Instead, pause and have your child say the word.
- If the rhyming word has other matches, ask your child to think of more words that rhyme.
- Rhyme is often associated with rhythm and music. Chant or sing these rhymes along with your child. Don't forget to dance!
- On pages 8, 10, and 12, the ball interrupts the rhythm of the poem. Play around with rhyme on these pages, coming up with other rhyming words that emphasize the movement of the ball. Nonsense words are okay too.
